DONNELLY AND WASHBURN.

Washington, D. C. April 3.—The Donnelly and Washburne case is leading to new and unexpected complications. Springer, chairman of the House Committee on Elections having received a letter from Representative Manning stating he proposed to prefer charges against him, Springer, affecting motives which actuated to the discourse and determined his vote in the case. He will, Monday, call attention of the house to the matter and ask for a thorough investigation. Springer states, that as the proper time he will show his colleagues and the country that his vote was strictly in accordance with his convictions and not corrupt.

Washington, D. C. April 3.—Senator Wallace, in behalf of the Senate select committee on alleged frauds in the late elections submitted a special report concerning political assessments. It says the whole sum received by the Republican Committee in the summer and fall of 1878 from the Federal officials was $93,000 and the whole sum received from other sources was $130,000. Clerks were solicited in every department of the Government and the chiefs of ten headed the subscriptions. Circulars were sent a second time when the response failed. The committee thinks the statute of '76 is a dead letter and report for the adoption of a bill making it unlawful for office holders or employees of the United States to contribute any valuable thing for political purposes, prohibiting the heads of departments or superior officers from collecting or allowing the collection or receipt from any subordinate of such contributions for political purposes. The penalty provided is a maximum of six months in prison and five hundred dollars fine and disqualifications from holding office thereafter. Wallace, Baily, Garland, McDonald and Kernan agree to the report. Teller will submit a minority report of himself, Kirkwood, Hoar and Blair.

Washington, April 3.—The Exodus Committee has commenced the examination of G. J. Marrell, colored, ex-member of the Louisiana legislature who told the old story of intimidation, &c., towards negroes. He predicted a tremendous exodus by the first of June, from certain parts of Louisiana. New Orleans, April 3.—In reply to the speaker of the House Grant said: I have always felt that the difference between a common people, after they have been once settled, should remain so for ever afterwards. In accepting an invitation to Vicksburg, he said: I once went into Vicksburg by the back door I would like to go in by the front door now.

New London, Conn., April 3.—The Yale and Harvard University eight will row a four miles straight away race on July the 1st, at five o'clock in the afternoon.

New York, April 3.—A Tribune's special from San Francisco interprets the result of the San Francisco elections thus: The Chinese shall not go, so the people have decided, for the crushing defeat of the Sand Lots party in San Francisco indicates the change in popular opinion which will doubtless prove greater elsewhere if people have once decided, otherwise they are sovereign and exercise their sovereign right in changing their minds. The desertions from the Workingmen's party must have been very numerous and will destroy the use of their advantage. The election will prove the beginning of the end of the commission in California. The whole country may rejoice at the result in San Francisco. The Chinese question is one for the whole nation and the hoodlums of one State have no business to attempt a settlement of it, it is especially fortunate at this time when the administration proposes through every extraordinary means to reach a new adjustment of our treaty relations with China. That triumph of citizens over the Sand Lots party gives reason to believe that the woe second thought of the people is resuming sway in California.

New York, April 3.—A Saturday's World's Edinburgh special says the question which the Conservatives are raising everywhere to console themselves with is whether the new Liberal Government is to be formed by Mr. Gladstone or Lord Hartington was settled before the canvass begun. This great victory has been organized and was fought out and won first of all and most of all by Gladstone. It was he who has kept alive, fed and developed the purpose of the Liberal party and several months ago he had a full understanding with the Marquis of Hartington as to the result of a triumph. If a victory should be won neither the Liberal party or Lord Hartington will consent to the reorganization of the Government under any other head than Mr. Gladstone.

M.B.'S IN PENNSYLVANIA.

New York, April 3.—A special from Reading, Pa., says that the people of Honey Brook township, Chester county, are in terrible alarm over the depredations of a band of Welch Mountain thieves who are burning their barns and driving off stock. The marauders robbed the county school houses of a large bible and nailed it to a tree, and then posted a notice with skulls and cross bones attached, stating that if the horse insurance company followed them up to make arrests a fearful desolation would follow. The members of the detective company have had their horses and cattle poisoned.

A LARGER EXODUS THAN USUAL.

New York, March 30.—A Washington special to the Evening Post says the Secretary of the American Colonization Society now distributing its sixty-third report. It states uneasiness among the negroes in the South continues, and the society is in daily receipt of letters of inquiry and appeals for help. He thinks the colored population at the South are more discontented with their condition now than at any time since the war. As stated in the report he believes that half a million of negroes would immediately emigrate to Liberia if opportunity offered. The society undertakes to give free passage and support for six months to as many persons as possible within its means. A ship load of 80 or 100 negroes will soon sail for Liberia under its auspices. The negroes in many Southern States despair of conquering race prejudice and are anxious to surrender everything and emigrate to the North or to Liberia if facilities were furnished them for travel.

St. Louis, Mo., April 3.—A Post's special dispatch from Ottawa, Kansas says a cyclone struck that place about seven o'clock last evening completely destroying seven residences on Elm street and badly injuring five others in the same vicinity. It then jumped five or six blocks and again struck the ground near the river where it destroyed several residences and barns, tore the roof off the K. C. & L. R. R. freight house and overturned several freight cars in North Ottawa. Twelve or fifteen residences are totally destroyed or badly damaged. The evening train for Lawrence was caught at the Junction Mill, north of town. One passenger car and two freight cars were upset. One passenger was seriously injured. The storm proceeded north, destroying the Spencer and Wilkinson and two other farm houses. Among the persons injured are R. F. Bovier and family, J. Marshall, A. H. Baldwin, Mrs. Blake, Mrs. Harting and Mrs. Jones. A child of Mrs. Black was killed. Some twenty others were injured.
